TOURING IN THE EAST BY MOTOR BUS

By Mabel Steil

To anyone with prospects of a vacation ahead, but no definite plans, a camping tour of the eastern states conducted by the Parkhill Brothers of the Illini Coach company is a suggestion for spending one of the most delightful vacations one can imagine.

When the party of which the writer was a member left Chicago Saturday morning, June 23, there were four new Yellow Coach busses filled with jolly vacationists, three trucks loaded with kitchen and camping equipment and one sedan, all set for their invasion of the sedate East. Traveling east through Illinois and Indiana with occasional halts at places of historic interest or scenic beauty, the party arrived at Dayton, Ohio, for their first night of camp life. To the majority this was a new and novel experience but the pleasures of living in the tented Parkhill village with the cheery smiles and services of the camp boys and the wholesome and delicious meals prepared by Opal the cook, ever anxious to see that her large brood of 140 well taken care of, was one of the most enjoyable features of the trip.

The second days' journey led through the state of Ohio where rolling country soon replaced the flat prairie land, past old wells and on into the beautiful hills of West Virginia where camp was made in the state amusement park at Wheeling. Breaking camp at 7:30 the next morning the Illini caravan wound its way through mining towns of Pennsylvania along the old national highway over which Braddock rode to his defeat in revolutionary days. Thrilling climbs were enjoyed over sections of the Allegheny mountains before coming to the old Mason and Dixon line beyond which lay the pine forests of Maryland. Here in the quaint town of Frostburg camp was ready and the townspeople entertained their visitors.

Sleeper mountains greeted the travelers on their fourth day out while in peaceful valleys below immense peach and apple orchards gave signs of the prosperity of that territory. The historic home of Barbara Freiche at Frederick was visited before continuing on to Washington, D. C. Here in the nation's capital the tribe halted two days while visits were made to the Congressional Library, Bureau of Printing and Engraving, the Capitol, White House, the Washington Monument and Lincoln Memorial. Some time was spent in the National Museum where the "Spirit of St. Louis," Lindy's famous plane was displayed along with thousands of relics of days gone by. The sight seeing tour was continued on past the various embassies, homes of former presidents and other nationally prominent leaders and on to Alexandria where Washington's old church is located and the Marie Antoinette and her personal effects are kept and preserved down through generations. Mt. Vernon, Washington's old home was the next objective after which the party proceeded to Arlington cemetery where not only the heroes of the Revolutionary, Civil and Spanish wars rest in peace, but also the Unknown Soldier, the silent representative of our brave lads who fell in the last war and sleep in foreign soil.

The Naval Academy at Annapolis was next visited and the massive buildings and well kept grounds fronting on the Severn River and Chesapeake Bay were awe-inspiring sights. Early on the morning of the sixth day a trip was made to the famous battlefields of Gettysburg where experienced guides pointed out the routes and lines of battle, making the story so realistic that one could imagine the soldiers in Blue and Gray were actually creeping up over the rocks and among the tall grasses. The camp site that night was in historic beautiful Valley Forge on the Schuylkill River. Philadelphia, the "city of brotherly love," with its famous Independence hall and the Liberty bell was given its share of attention before the trail led to Perth Amboy, N. J., from where ferries carried the party across the river to Staten Island and again across the bay to New York City with the Statue of Liberty beckoning a welcome.

One day and two nights in the largest city in the United States were not sufficient to see all the interesting sights but after a general sight-seeing tour, a trip to Coney Island, China Town, a visit to famous theaters and amusement places, 8 o'clock Monday morning found the coaches back on the road. Following the winding Hudson along the never-to-be-forgotten Storm King highway the most wonderful scenery of the entire trip was encountered. A visit to West Point was also enjoyed before setting up camp at Endicott. Enroute to Niagara Falls, several hours were spent at Watkins' Glen, N. Y., where the beauties of Nature in rock and waterfall are rivaled only by the famous canyons of the great west. Arriving at Niagara trips were taken around and under the falls and the beauties of the great King of Waterfalls enjoyed from every vantage point. Incidentally, many of the

Lions Club Break Even On Celebration

The Lions Club members heard some good news at their meeting on Tuesday evening, following their usual good dinner served by the ladies of the Lutheran Dorcas Aid. There will be no deficiency on account of the Fourth of July celebration. After the "unsettled weather," that occurred on the Fourth, the boys expected a financial loss, perhaps totaling $200 or $300 and when Chairman Zander informed them that all bills had been paid and money was still coming in, you ought to have heard the Lions roar.

The Lions by a rising vote expressed their appreciation to the chairman of the day, Mr. Zander, and also to the members of the Arlington Heights Business Men's Association and others who helped to make the day a success.

Here is also some good news for the ladies. Next Tuesday, July 17, they will be guests of the club. There will be entertainers and of course the caterers are planning something special.

The membership of the club is still growing. A. E. Volz is the latest "cub." Incidentally for the benefit of any members not there they should pay early attention to a letter which the financial secretary is about to mail out.

Arlington Heights is represented this week at the Lions International, which is meeting at Des Moines, Iowa. Lions F. Miltzer and V. I. Brown are the delegates. They got a late start as they could not be notified of the honor that was coming their way until the club met, which in this instance was a week late because of the Fourth. However, the two men left aboard the Studebaker Special at 12 o'clock sharp Wednesday noon and barring accidents and speed cops, expect to reach there before bedtime.

They were all decked out with Lions insignia from arm bands and ties to a cane. Fred says that if the Iowa corn growers do not hear them coming they will see them, as they go flying through the hamlets of that state.

Lions Club members as individuals will make up the usual $150 subscription to the local Boy Scout fund. A considerable part of that money was raised that evening.

DesPlaines River Highest In Years

The Des Plaines river assumed alarming conditions the last week, due to the exceptional heavy rain fall. Take as an example, the bridge on Grand avenue, the water at this point was just a foot or so from the top of the bridge, meadows and forest preserve play grounds were flooded, and water was rushing over all of the dams several feet deep.

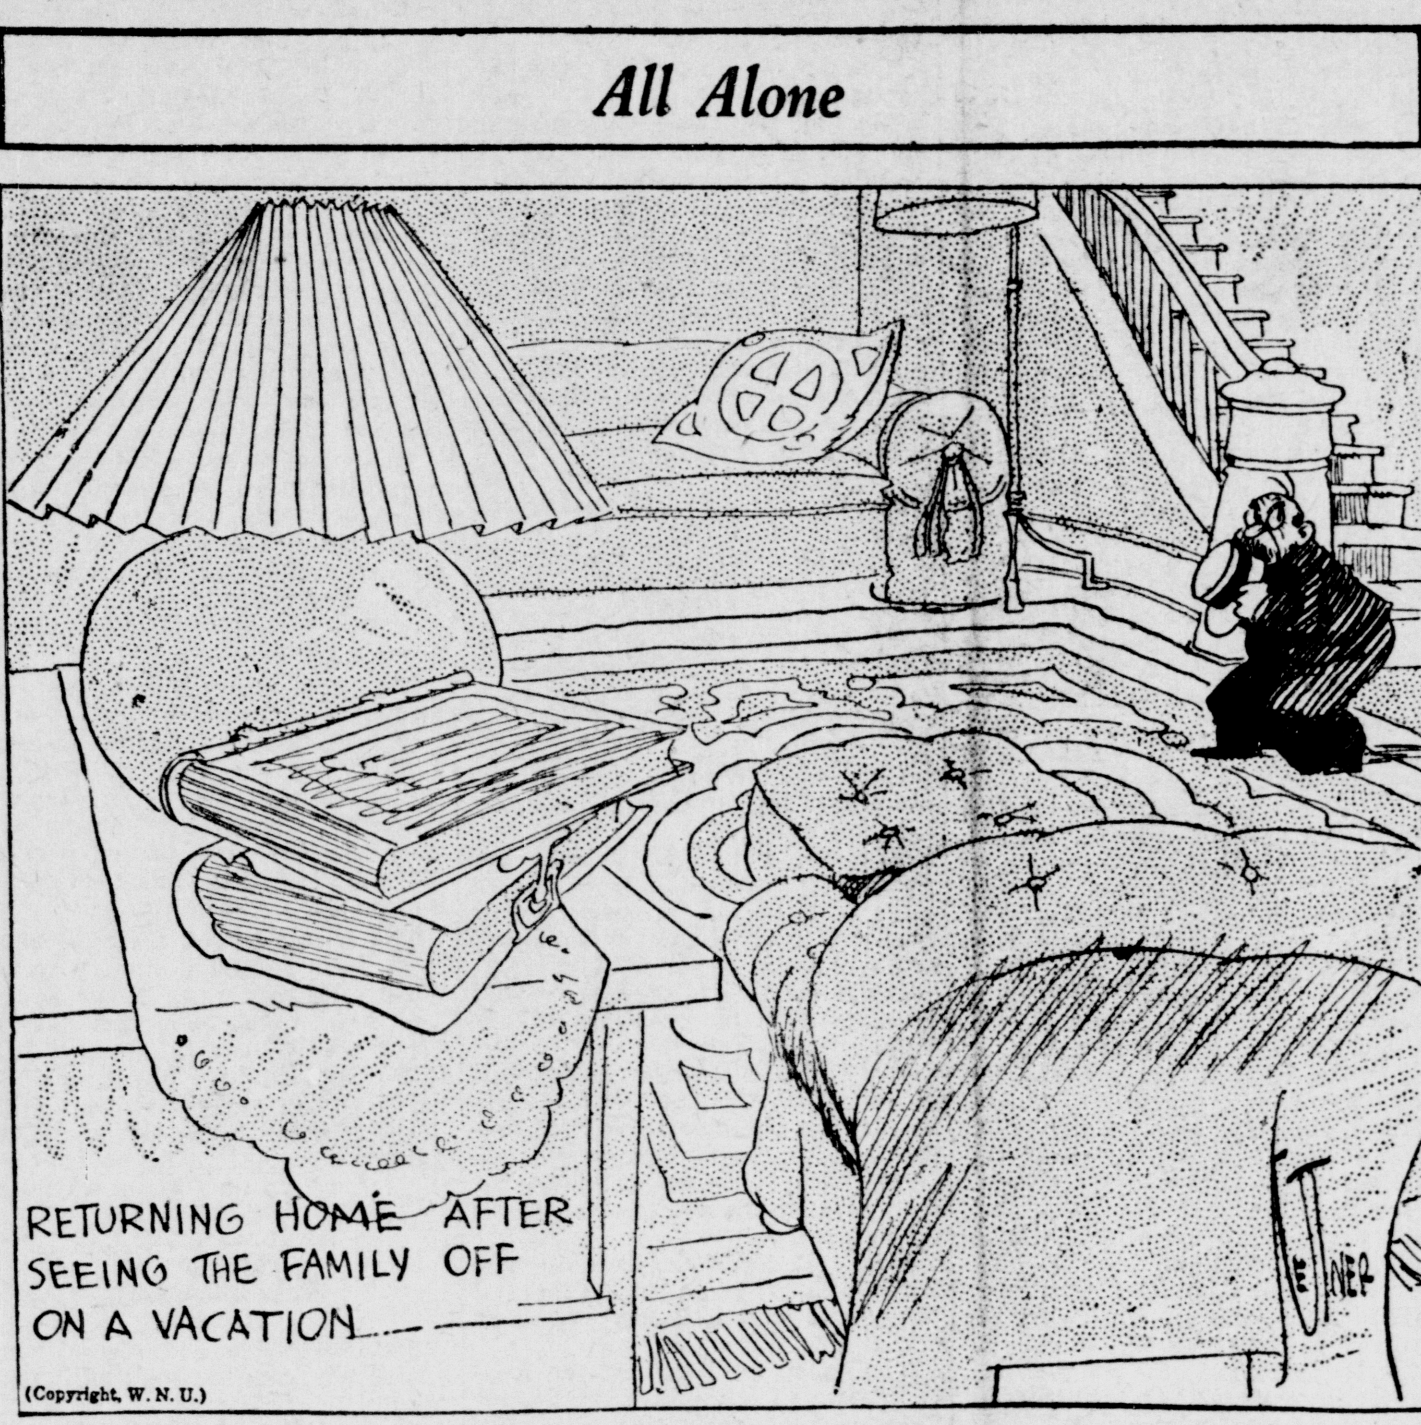

However, the last few days, this water has gone down considerable and the river is slowly coming back to normal.

Illini crowd witnessed the daring feat performed July 4 by the man going over the falls in a rubber ball. The splendor of the falls in daylight is a thrilling sight, but at nightfall when colored lights are played on the spectacle, the dazzling brilliance is a sight no words can describe. Trips across the river into Canada were also enjoyed.

At Marion, Ohio, the tomb of Warren G. Harding was seen, a memorial to the late President lying in architectural beauty with the tombs of Grant and other historical characters of bygone days. The last night in camp was spent at Dayton where an evening of impromptu entertainment was provided by the crowd in general with songs, stories and movies taken at various times on the trip.

7:15 Saturday morning saw the party homeward bound, happy to be nearing home and friends yet sad to be parting from newly made friends and in general wisper and better for the experience and visits to scenes and spots they had studied of in school days. Nothing was lacking to make the trip one of thorough enjoyment for one and all. The coaches were the last word in comfort, the roads perfect for the drivers skilled and capable and altho mosquitoes hovered around some of the camping places and an occasional shower of rain would mean a dash for shelter, no one seemed to mind for all were out for the same purpose, to have a good time. The friendly, co-operative spirit predominating all and the efficient management of the tour by the Parkhill Brothers and their assistants explain why everyone had such a wonderful time, so that perhaps an appropriate summary of the trip might be found in the following verse written as a parody on the song, "End of a Perfect Day."

"When you come to the end of a Parkhill tour,
And you spend your last night in camp;
You remember the joys and the fun you've had,
And forget that your clothes were damp.
You recall the sights and the things you've seen,
The pals and the friends you've met,
And you treasure all in your memory
As two weeks you will ne'er forget."

Forest Preserve Asks Your Help

A general appeal comes from the Board of Forest Preserve Commissioners to the public for co-operating in preserving of trees of Cook county.

We have not the necessary facilities nor the necessary number of employees on account of inadequate funds to cope with the proposition. To properly maintain 32,000 acres of land requires much more money and much greater facilities than we have at our disposal.

Many thousands of people visit the preserves each day, especially in the summer months. Sundays and holidays see vast crowds swarming into the preserves.

We appeal to these vast crowds of people who visit the Preserves and enjoy them to remember that after all these forests must be maintained and preserved for future generations.

Destruction of any and all nature not only harms the present generation and all of the people of Cook county, but it harms many generations yet to come.

We therefore appeal to the people to help us to keep the Forest Preserves clean; we appeal to the people not to dump any debris or refuse material in the Forest Preserves; we appeal to the people not to destroy the trees, shrubs, grass, tables, benches, comfort stations, wells and the many other improvements in the preserves.

Please help us maintain and preserve the 32,000 acres of Forest Preserve land.

Local Farmers Need More and Larger Wells

Wayman & Wayman, well drillers of Arlington Heights, have been kept rather busy the past few months in supplying wells to their customers. Some of the wells that the farmers are asking for today rival the water supplies of the villages of ten and twenty years ago.

One of the largest and deepest wells in this vicinity has just been completed for the Wolf farm, two miles west of Palatine, adjoining the northwest highway. This well has a diameter of eight inches and a depth of 815 feet. It will be equipped with a large air compressor and Mr. Wolf, the proprietor, expects to also use in the painting of the buildings. A number of improvements is being made on this farm, which will be used to feed stock.

A second eight inch well, 200 feet deep has been completed for a farmer in the southern part of Palatine township.

Fred Pylik, of Elk Grove, who resides on the Busse road, near Algonquin road, has a new five inch well, 179 feet deep.

Herman Busse, on Seegers road, has a new six inch well, and the children of the Box Elder school in Elk Grove township will hereafter get their water supply from a 4 1/2 inch well.

Coolidge Mail Plane Down At Barrington

Lieutenant J. H. Atkinson, U. S. Army Air Corp. of Fort Riley, Kan., on detached service carrying President Coolidge's mail between Superior, Wis., and Chicago, was forced down a half mile north of Barrington Saturday evening when a connecting rod broke and crashed through the crankcase of his Liberty motor.

Lieut. Atkinson was enroute from Chicago to the landing field at 63rd street and Cicero, Chicago, when the accident took place. He continued his trip with the mail by train.

A new motor was installed and Lieut. Atkinson took off for Chicago at 11:45 a. m. Tuesday.

REASSESSMENT OF REAL ESTATE NOW ORDERED

Chairman William H. Malone of the state tax commission has ordered a reassessment of all real estate in Cook county. The new figures, the mandate directs, will be substituted for estimates in the 1927 quadrennial assessment.

A meeting of the tax commission was called by Chairman Malone to decide on the system to be used in making the new assessment. Members of the board of review and the board of assessors were invited. The chairman said Cook county's system of fixing values for taxing will be modernized and put on a scientific basis.

"It is the duty under the law of the state tax commission to lay down guidance of the assessors in their work," said Mr. Malone. "We realize fully that this is no easy task, and the commission will approach it with general rules and regulations for the home and belief that every one will lend an unselfish effort to the end that no person will be called upon to carry more than his share of the burden."

The commission's order states that it has found gross inequalities in the 1927 assessment, as between individual assessments, between different classes of real estate, and as between different districts of the county.

The board of review and board of assessors yesterday started mailing printed reports on real estate assessments to the taxpayers of the county.

The board of review, for the last week, has been receiving complaints from property owners objecting to the assessors' evaluations. In the ordinary course of business these complaints would be heard as soon as the assessors close their books on the personal property schedules, retaining the 1927 real estate assessments.

However, with the new assessment effective as soon as completed, the 1928 assessment is expected to clear up most of the complaints.

M. Oefelein's Sister Goes to Her Reward

Last Sunday some friends from Chicago came to visit Mrs. M. Oefelein and family. Mrs. Oefelein had for some time been wishing she might see her sister, Mrs. Helmkamp, whose home was in Waukegan, so when her visiting friends offered to take her for a ride, she said she would like to go to Waukegan. They went and she found her sister and all well, and had a happy visit with her. Monday morning Mrs. Helmkamp was found by her family dead in her bed. So little do we know when we bid our friends good night, whether we shall see them on earth again. Mrs. Oefelein was indeed glad she had that last day with her sister. Monday she was called to her home to be with the family until after Mrs. Helmkamp's funeral, which took place Wednesday.

Mrs. Helmkamp formerly lived at Des Plaines and was known to many here, who have met her in Mrs. Oefelein's home.

Mrs. Oefelein has the sympathy of many in the loss of her kind, loving sister.

A professor says there are 200,000 useless words in the dictionary. But perhaps even these come handy in fraying a political platform.

A six-foot Connecticut man fell into a well with five feet of water. Luckily he fell feet downward or his height wouldn't have availed him.

Arlington Heights Girl Scouts Return

Last week our older Girl Scouts returned from Camp Juniper Knoll near Elkhorn, Wis., where they spent a happy week while two weeks in spite of some bad weather. They enjoyed the swimming, learned to make rope belts, some of the girls passed their Nature tests and received badges, some received Juniper Knoll badges. Training in useful occupation as well as novelty was enjoyed. As one of the girls reported "We even had to wash our own dishes. We have reason to be proud of the remark of one unit leader who said, 'The most polite and best behaved girls in my unit were the Arlington Heights Girl Scouts.'"

The Girl Scouts wish to thank the following people for the use of their cars and their services in driving: Mrs. Henry Martens, Mrs. Theo. Pratt, Mrs. Arthur McElhose, Mrs. G. R. Wolfe and Mrs. Wilbecker and also Mrs. Miller of Wheeling whose daughter, Ardith Miller, accompanied the Girl Scouts. Those who went to camp were:

Florence Procter, Mildred Brockmeyer, Alice Bellendorf, Genevieve Muehlhausen, Isabel Muehlhausen, Florence McElhose, Eleanor Wolf, Beatrice Sebastian, Gussie Greshner, Eleanor Smith and Ida Mulbecker.

The Girl Scouts rendered assistance Thursday at the Bam picnic. They acted as auxiliary "mothers" for the little tots whose own mothers were unable to attend the picnic. This is only one of the many civic jobs that the local Girl Scout organization is ready to do.

Theodore Freye, Of Palatine, Dies After Lingering Illness

Mr. Theodore Freye, a resident of Palatine many years, died at his home on Benton and Chicago avenues, Wednesday evening. The funeral will be held Saturday afternoon, two o'clock at St. Paul's church.

Mr. Freye has been in ill health for some time and spent three weeks at a Chicago hospital. Last Sunday, he asked that he be allowed to return to his home. He was brought back and passed away three days later. For many years, Mr. Freye was engineer at the local Bowman Dairy plant, but since it was shut down he has not been actively employed.

Mr. Freye leaves a wife, a son, Leslie, of Palatine, a brother in California and a sister in Indianapolis.

Evangelical Woman's Federation Meeting Thursday, July 19

The fourth regular federation meeting of the Arlington Heights Evangelical women's society will take place next week Thursday, July 19, beginning at 10:30 a. m. at Sunset Park, Highland Park, Ill. The ladies of St. Johns, Rev. Roth, pastor, will be hostesses.

Rev. Armin Meyer, our missionary, home on furlough, from India, a son of Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Meyer of Hossier's Grove, will be the speaker. He will have an interesting display of articles to show from India.

A very enjoyable day is assured for all, as this is an out-door meeting and will afford more time for sociability. Everybody is requested to bring their lunch, and the ladies may bring their children and husband. Sunset Park is very pretty and affords past times for the children for their amusement. A large happy meeting is anticipated.

AUTO THIEF CAUGHT IN HOME TOWN

The theft of the Ford coupe belonging to C. A. Carlson of Palatine, from Arlington Park, on June 20th, was entirely solved Sunday when Elmer Galberth confessed his guilt and was brought back to Palatine by officers Lester Pashby and Rowan. The suspicion of the police was directed to Galberth, because he disappeared at the same time as the car. His home town was Sullivan, Ill., and it was the police at that place who were instructed to pick him up if he came back there. This they did and word was received Saturday night that Galberth was in custody. The man refused to admit his guilt until after the appearance of the Palatine officers. He was lodged in the Palatine jail and may secure his freedom upon payment of damages to the car owner.

Arlington Scouts Bring Honor Certificate Back from Their Camp

Five members of Troop No. 7, reported back from camp at Indian Mound, last Monday, with the leading patrol certificate for the first camp period.

That's another feather in our cap, folks, and just a beginning to what we hope to do in the scouting line.

Keep your eyes on our troop and "Boost" as you never boosted before for they're our boys and we owe it to them.

First troop good turn at the Bam picnic yesterday and well attended. Some of the boys who haven't been attending meetings requested permission to attend but were refused. It must be remembered that everyone must do his bit if he expects to get in on the fun and good times.

"A scout is thrifty" doesn't mean in money matters alone. It means that he doesn't waste anything—time, opportunity, effort, money. All things are valuable to a real scout for he knows that only through effort are the real things of life obtained.

Saturday and Sunday, July 21 and 22, there will be another overnight trip for our scouts.

The Isaac Walton League Cabin at Dan No. 2, has been secured for the two days, surrounded by territory that is ideal for scout work.

And the boys are looking forward to the trip with a vast deal of enthusiasm.

There isn't much cost to such a trip, the benefits gained are many and each boy improves in many ways as the results of such trips. Cooking is cared for by the individual scouts under proper supervision with a program of activities to keep everyone busy.

So, folks, get the boy out for hikes and scout meetings. If he hasn't already joined, bring him to meeting and see for yourself some of the things he will do.

You won't regret it, neither will he and your investment will return large interest in happy, industrious, progressive boyhood for your boy and his friends.

Regular meetings Monday evenings at 7:15 p. m. in the high school gym.

International Trucks Find Many Buyers

There is no contest on between the International Truck dealers of Arlington Heights and Palatine, but they are running a close race. Recent sales of such trucks made by Julius Plentie of Arlington Heights, are Heller Lumber Co., Arlington Seating Co., Emil Junke, G. R. Wolff, Herman Piepenbrink and two trucks to Milburn Bros.

Former Arlington Heights Boy Is Dead

Harry Shippman, brother of Mrs. Isaac Blum, of Palatine and a former resident of Arlington Heights twenty years ago, passed away at his home in St. Chicago, July 3. Heart trouble was the direct cause of his death.

The funeral was held at 3 East 55th street last Thursday, with interment in Bethel cemetery. Harry made his home with his mother.

Failure To Observe Stop Sign Overturns Ford and Pontiac

R. A. Barr, employed at the restaurant at Arlington Park driving a Ford truck, failed to obey the stop sign on Miner street when approaching State Road at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening and crashed into a Pontiac sedan occupied by R. O. Esh and family of Dundee. Two children of the family of Police Chief Boncosky, of Dundee were also in the latter car. Both autos turned over. Mrs. Esh received the greater injuries and was removed to the office of Dr. Elfeld. She suffered severe hemorrhages for some time after the crash. The children and her husband sustained minor cuts and bruises.

Officer George King took Mr. Barr into custody and the cars were towed to the Gaare garage. Barr was released on bonds signed by his employer who agreed to pay all damages and doctor bills.

NEWS-O-PHOBIA

Nothing About Something
Something About Everything
Everything About Nothing

Well Mr. Hoover might as well concede the election to Mr. Smith and it breaks my heart to confess it. But here's the dope. Just when Mr. Hoover's men get all pepped up over the hope of a split in the Democratic party, along comes Mr. Smith and nominates none other than Mr. John J. Raskob to head the campaign. And who is Mr. Raskob?? Chief of General Motors, which makes one third of all the cars in the country. Every prospective Chivvie owner is a Democrat. What chance have the G. O. P.'s got.

And you'll notice that Mr. Smith doesn't make the mistake of getting Mr. Henry Ford. It takes Henry nine months to make delivery. And on November tenth it's gonna be too late to display a slogan on the car saying "I'm glad I waited."

Mr. Raskob's first statement was "Democrats Will Shut Mud-slinging." Boy the Chivvie better keep out of Iowa then, for we've sure seen Chivvies sling some wicked mud out thataway.

We're with the vatican in the war it has started to reduce the amount of space devoted to crime stories in newspapers. This idea that telling all the gruesome details will make men shudder and fear crime is all the bunk. We used to say the same thing at hangings when we made them public and that instead, after every hanging there was a regular wave of crime.

The vatican is also starting a campaign to cut out the "pornographic pictures" of the movie stars and bathing beauties. I can't say so much about that. The American press is cutting it out anyway, not because it is shocking our sensibilities, but we're lost interest in them. There's so little difference between the girl in her street costume and her bathing suit that most of us don't know a dinner gown from a bathing suit.

See that a rich New Yorker killed himself as the "one brave act" in a life of cowardice and so hoped to cure the cowardice he hated. The cure was rather severe. Reminds us of a doctor whose bill read: "To curing James Feagan till he died, twenty five pounds."

See where the mayor of the city of Newburyport, Massachusetts was fined $500 last week for destroying Newburyport trees which he said interfered with traffic conditions. He has appealed.

So the three men who started to hike for land from Nobles ship have been located. Every effort should be made to bring them back to civilization, for they are the only ones who can set at rest the ugly rumors that they were put on the ice for insubordination. It is claimed that in an effort to land them and make them walk back, Noble wrecked his ship. So much credence is given the story that Mussolini has ordered Noble to face a court-martial.

Children's day at Bam Lake yesterday. After a day of feasting and fun, more than one will feel like Willie. "Mother," asked Willie, "is it true that an apple a day keeps the doctor away?" "Yes, Willie, why?" "Well, 'cause if it is, I keep about ten doctors away this morning—but I'm afraid one'll have to come soon."

We agree with the "Nation." The other day we picked up a paper poking fun at the Senate and especially their "Inquisitions." But if it hadn't been for the Senate, Daugherty, Fall and Denby might still be in office. Sinclair would still have Teapot Dome, Doheny, Elk hills, Illinois Smith would be in the senate, Hearst would have fooled the country into accepting his forged documents of Mexican conspiracy and caused war, coal industry would continue its barbarian measures in the soft coal fields. So therefore with the nation we say "Thank God for the Senate."

They were before the Judge in the Domestic relations court. "What is the trouble," asked the judge, said she, "I'm sick of being married." "What have you to say," asked the Judge of the Hubby. "So's her old man" was the response and with that the divorce was granted.

Do you know why so few people in the Heights have large noses? Well, I'll tell you. There are few who keep their noses out of other people's business and let the nose grow.

"Approved" Movies To Be Helpful To Arlington Programs

Otto Heiman, the proprietor of the Arlington Theatre, has signified his willingness to do his part to bring "approved" movies to the local show house. The national organizations of the P. T. A. Woman's clubs and others issue monthly bulletins on the approved movies. Such a list will be furnished to Mr. Heiman and he will do what he can to bring as many of such pictures to Arlington Heights as possible. The approved list is compiled with the idea of acquainting parents with the names of the proper movies that can be enjoyed by children and adults. Movies are part of the education of today and it can be both good and bad.

POLICE TO CLOSE HOUSE OF ILL FAME

Houses of ill fame in the Palatine-Arlington Heights district will be soon a thing of the past if Lieutenant Laird and the highway police persist in their present efforts to rid the communities of three such places that have been in operation between those two villages. There is only a mile and an eighth of Northwest highway between the two towns. There have been three alleged disorderly houses in operation in that short distance.

Disclosures of these conditions in these columns have not aroused the local people to action, and as far as known there has been no general remonstrance on the part of the people of Arlington Heights or Palatine against the present conditions. The highway police district, with headquarters at the Milwaukee avenue police station are taking matters in their own hands and have determined to keep their district free of such places. The southern part of the county have not been so fortunate as the north end and the Lieutenant does not intend, if he can help it, to allow such resorts to secure a foothold in northern Cook county.

That department intends to break up any disorderly houses that open for business. Raids have previously been made on the Gordon and Kramer places and now the newly opened, Novak place, former Albrecht fana, is scheduled for a raid every week-end. They have occurred in one, two, three order, the last four Saturday nights. The last one took place last Saturday night. The police found a bar tender, who was booked as the keeper of the place, a woman inmate, a customer and a quantity of liquor. All were taken to the highway police station and a hearing held Thursday afternoon.

The police left other souvenirs of their visit, and the interior had the appearance of a cyclone. The police believe that the only sure way to shut such places is to make them unprofitable. Frequent raids and publicity are expected to have that result.

Novak was fined $200 and cost Thursday afternoon as a result of raid No. 3. The fine for raid No. 4 will be assessed next week Thursday. Kramer likewise has a case coming up at the same time.

The highway police should have the moral support of such citizens who are opposed to a "red light district" on the borders of Arlington Heights and Palatine. A little encouragement on the part of the local officials will bring greater endeavors on the part of the highway police force.

DesPlaines Camp Meet Drawing Large Crowds

The Sixty-ninth Annual Des Plaines Camp Meeting of the M. E. church was opened a week ago today. The opening service held in the tabernacle was conducted by the Rev. King Beach, pastor of the St. James church. This service crowded the large tabernacle to capacity and was just a fore runner of the large crowds that have been attending the past week.

On Saturday the Daily Vacation Bible school was opened and the committee appointed for the several phases of the work that has to be handled during the meetings. The morning sermon was given by Rev. F. F. Farmiloe and the evening sermon by Rev. F. W. Ignovoldstad. Sunday was an exceptionally interesting day which was full of many religious activities. The morning worship was conducted by Prof. Edmund D. Soper of Duke University of Durham, S.C. Music was furnished by the choir of the Euclid avenue church. The afternoon service was given by one of the leading colored pastors of America the Doctor Charles A. Trimley, pastor of the Tindley Temple at Philadelphia. The ending of a most perfect day was consummated by a service of welcome to Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes, who delivered the sermon of the evening.

The weekly meetings have been well attended and this undoubtedly will be one of the most prosperous camp meetings ever held at the DesPlaines camp grounds.

This afternoon the Deaconess Anniversary service will be conducted by Rev. A. D. Klotz, pastor of the Morgan Park church. The evening service will be "Des Plaines Night" and the sermon will be delivered by that famous author and preacher, Ralph Connor, who will also conduct the evening services Saturday and Sunday.

Sunday will be your last opportunity to attend the camp meetings this year, as the closing services will be held on that day, with such speakers as Bishop J. C. Baker and Bishop L. J. Birney and Ralph Connor and music by Signor Mario Cappelli you are assured of a most glorious finale to these wonderful meetings at the DesPlaines camp grounds.

Dr. Savage, Ed. Foley and Robert Jahn are spending two weeks in northern Wisconsin. They told their wives that they were going on a fishing trip. It now develops that the attractions of golf is taking up their attentions nearly every afternoon. The wives are understood to be wondering why they have to go so far from home in order to play golf.

OBSERVER'S NOTES

This the season of wishing.
For picnics or going a-fishing
Its hot, too hot, too cold or too wet,
So we all get together
And growl at the weather
And just what we wanted forgot.

Also we forget the kind you wish for your next door neighbor may not want: We do forget that. The creator of all things, established laws immutable and unchangeable, not to be set aside—to suit the day of the picnic or your wash day.
You've heard of the farmer out west who petitioned the Lord to send rain for his potato field—but not let it cross the fence into his meadow—as it would ruin his hay.

How small are such conceptions of the Great Ruler of all things.
No wonder poor misunderstood Robert Ingersoll wrote "our honest God is the noblest work of man."
The limited conception of God—leads many to attribute great casualties—accidents and deaths to "Providence" when too often the same has been caused by man's improvidence and failure to use the common sense God gave him.

There are some boys in this town who need a good old fashioned spanking. There is an industrious, music-loving harmless lad, they follow on the street to tease and taunt. And yet if this poor hunted boy should turn on them, and give them what "Paddy gave the drum," there would be a great hue and cry against the tortured lad from unjust parents.

Boys, rightly taught will not do such low bred things. I know these boys, and if they continue these unkind actions, they will be informed on—to proper authorities.
A child who loves to tease or torture another or to torture dumb animals is to be pitied as he is in danger of becoming a criminal. He is to be pitied too because of the inefficiency of his parent to teach him aright.

Teasing and torturing an afflicted person is pitiful to see. Wish I could tell all these boys how sorry
I am to see them do such an unkind thing—which may result seriously. You know the old prophet who didn't like to be teased about his bald head and how God sent a bear from the mountain to come and devour them! Let us be good boys!

Did you read about those orange men over in Glasgow, who were celebrating Guy Fawkes Day, and got into a dandy big row; when The Orange men were on their parade? Glad we didn't have such fracas on our great holiday. Not even the two great political parties could have been distinguished from each other in the "Union Forever" spirit displayed.

We spoke last week about the "Water brooks and the cooling effect of lakes and rivers in our landscape." One of our clever neighbors has devised a method of giving his children shower baths, on his lawn in the evening when they are in their nest robes. He gently showers them with a hose; better than going into a lake or river and running the risk of cramp or drowning. And you may be sure the youngsters enjoy the shower, and are cool and ready for sleep.

Cherries are ripe and her comes our kind neighbor Deering with a basket full of the fine, juicy ruby red fruit. Tired as he must have been from his days work wasn't that a thoughtful thing for him to do? And his good woman was behind his act. Yes, Arlington Heights is the City of Good Neighbors and they don't all live in $50,000 houses at that.

Two of our busy business men who grudged the time given to serve on the jury last week were locked in without warning the first night for an all night session.
Just because one juror stubbornly refused to agree. Two lonely Arlington Heights women spent hours in suspense and no doubt remorse of conscience for some omissions and commissions against their patient spouses.

You know Will Rogers told of his pity for his wife the day he was to be operated on in the hospital. When the doctor was making ready to take him, he missed his wife, and was sure she had gone into another room to cry out her grief. Bearing it long as he could he tipped in to comfort her,
and there she was, efficiently looking over, and taking care of his insurance papers! I don't know if these suffering ladies thought of that, but one does own up she was determined on not having a certain kind of funeral!

After all it wasn't funny for those dear faithful wives to be kept in such a night of suspense, filled with all manner of dark forebodings and fearful imaginings. None of us but realize what terrible things may happen to our loved ones in the city between dark and daylight. I do think jury men thus detained should have the privilege of telephoning their home folks.

Several years ago three fatherless, motherless boys came here from the Addison Orphanage and have most of the time since worked their way in this community. Hard workers they have been and honest. With so much against them in their loss of home and parents they have done the best they knew.
Last week Clarence Thompson, the youngest, ended his hard career in death in a Chicago hospital. He fell while at work and was hurt, so had to go to the hospital. There he died of pneumonia. Nothing is sadder than the life of orphan children. No one to care for them, no one to direct. Those who have more fortunate lives, should always remember "Unto him that much is given—" of him shall much be required."

Highways full of crowds from the city out for the day. Where do they all come from and where do they go? Last Sunday we heard of two mixups and nearly serious accidents. You see friends it is like this. Those of us who can be out in the open right here at home every day in the week should unselfishly give over the road to those who can only go on Sunday.
Think where they are shut in all day, in the heat and smoke of the city. And rejoice that you can come home away from it at night.

Crowds of busy tourists
Come from near and far,
What are they all seeking—
Tell me who they are?
Crowds of men and women
Sitting in the shade—
Drinking in the breezes,
Calm and unafraid.
Crowds of idle loafers
Sprawling on the beach
Seeming without motive,
Listless in their speech.
Groups of men and women
Underneath the trees—
Earnestly discussing
Problems at their ease:
Maybe prohibition,
Justice long delayed;
Maybe Smith and Hoover—
There beneath the shade
Get them all excited
As the breezes stir—
Then they just start homeward
And the motors whirr;
Go tomorrow morning
Where the train pulls in—
For our Sunday tourists
Have their bread to win—
Crowds of men and women
There today you'll find Better for their outing—
In the work day grind.
Let us all remember
That our Lord once said
Man was made for the Sabbath
But the Sabbath for man instead.
We who have the freedom
Of the roads and trees—
Every day in seven—
Should not be Pharisees!

Here's wishing everyone of these new subdivisions and annexes with ambitious, Pro-British names will just flourish and grow like Green bay tree. Hear of those who are investing in lots and plats are assured of doubling and quadrup-ling their prices. O, in just about a minute! This reminds me of Peck's bad boy who took five dollars from his father's drawer and bought a dog—not a choice specimen like a corner lot three blocks from the public square, but just a common mangy cur—when his father protested, the boy said the man he bought the dog from assured him he could get one hundred dollars for the dog in a short time. His father asked him if he believed he could. And the boy said "O, yes; if I can find some one who wants that kind of a dog!"

Some funny little freebooters of children who infringe on our wild flower preserves have got so when they see us at the window or door they will say to each other, "Run now, I'm going to call Skoog." Pull flowers up by the roots and destroy those that come only from seeds and are the children better off.
There are so many fine things that go on. Saw a man who found a little turtle suffering for water, on the street carry it and put it in the pond. Saw a weary teamster kindly gentle with his horses. Saw a boy who works take his father and mother to their work in a car before he went to his own. Can't begin to tell all the kind lovely things observed this week.

Conan Doyle now maintains Thought comes not from brains
Yet I have never once read
Where he clearly explains
If not from the brains
The place thought comes from instead.

The school men may patter
About our gray matter—
While scientists pry and plod
Still I've faith to believe The thoughts we receive Come to us straight from God.

Man's wisdom still clings
To material things,
The things they can touch and see
But the spirit that is—
In this body of his
Is an unread mystery.
All great things of earth
At first had their birth
And to infinite man was brought
By God's infinite plan
To the mind of man
On the wings of creative thought.
A man wise and great
Says there's no future state
Life for man ceases with breath;
That no man here so wise
Ever saw with his eyes
The spirit that lives after death.

Yet does any one see
Over land and sea
Voices floating above in the air—
Or see whither they go
When there's no radio—
Their message to catch and declare.

From whence and to where Do they flash through the air
Will some one explain, if they know
How ether waves bring
To peasant and king
Voices from far over radio.

Then whence cometh thought?
To us is it brought
On some fine invisible line
From its great source all wise,
Hid from our mortal eyes—
We are somehow led to divine?

—Elinore Crisler Haynes.

Roselle Police Force
Curbs Speeders; and Protects Children

The Roselle police force is not hard boiled, but early this year they adopted a policy of curbing speeders, which has had an excellent result. The main purpose of the campaign was to protect the children and the workmen employed in sewer work.

The total number of cases of speeding since May 1, was 32, of which there were four forfeitures and six suspended sentences. There has been an average of one arrest every 2.21 days. The average fine has been $4.21 and costs. In a number of cases no costs have been assessed.

Saturday, July 7, Mrs. Gilbert Klehm entertained a group of fifteen friends in the Draper home in honor of the birthday of her mother, Mrs. C. P. Draper. To add to the pleasure of the party, Mrs. Draper's sisters, Mrs. Wilke of Harvard and Mrs. Blueger and daughter, Ruth of Beverly Hills, were present. Mrs. Klemme had planned to come, but a telegram bearing word of the destruction of her son's farm in Minnesota, prevented her coming. Mrs. Draper was as happy over her first birthday cake, as if she had been 16 instead of 61. What's the use of telling.

The Bowman Dairy Co., were combing the place for milk customers this week, wonder how this is for home dealers?

The word came to Mrs. Klemme over wire last of the week that her son, Allen Klemme's farm in Minnesota, had been destroyed by a terrible cyclone. Ruin and devastation, where a few minutes before had been beauty and promise. Mrs. Klemme went to her son soon as possible. I was told he said the cyclone lasted ten minutes and when it had passed he was ten years older.

Mrs. Klemme expected to attend Miss Draper's birthday party, but was hindered by the shocking word from her son. Only a little while since Allen Klemme visited his Arlington Heights friends.

Mr. August Wilke writes his family that his party going to Germany, Mr. and Mrs. Engelking, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Miller, Mr. Ed. Greenburg, arrived safely at Bremen, after rather a stormy passage through the channel. Mrs. Engelking and Mrs. Miller were made ill by the roughness of the sea. Mrs. Wichman waited to take her return passage until she could welcome these friends over. She is probably on her way home by this time.

Sunday morning in the Presbyterian church Rev. Kossack will preach his last sermon until after his vacation, which will begin July 15, and end August 15.

Mr. U. A. Reese has gone to his brother, Mr. James Reese, who is critically ill in a hospital at Madison.

Mrs. Wm. Garland and family are entertaining her aunt, Mrs. Harry Diekel, sister, Miss Clara Siekey, Miss Ethel Hyatt and Miss Lillian Dahl from Long Island, N. Y. They are motoring, through from New York to Denver.

The old Bugbee house, owned by District 25, is being raised, new foundation placed and altogether being remodeled and made over into a modern residence.

Mrs. George Russell, Mrs. Coyle and another friend from Chicago, drove out to call on Mrs. Herbert Ackley, Wednesday afternoon.

Rev. and Mrs. H. A. Kossack and their daughters, Lois and Alice, plan to leave here first of the week for a motor trip east, first visiting his brother, Rev. Kossack, who is over a church near Pittsburgh and from there to other friends in New Jersey and Philadelphia, then on to Washington, Boston, New York and home by way of Niagara Falls. A whole church full of people wish them a safe and happy journey and safe return.

Miss Lucile Paddock will leave Monday morning a month visiting relatives in Salt Lake City and a trip through the Zion Canyon.

Mrs. M. Daniels and Miss Lucile Paddock entertained last Friday the Misses Hazel and Harriet Butler, old friends from Libertyville.

Miss Evelyn Rau is entertaining a former classmate, Miss Loretta Carroll, of East Chicago, Ind.

Miss Ann Blase of the Emerald Shop is enjoying a two weeks motor trip around Lake Michigan.

The Emerald Shop has an attractive fan for every customer, one of whom will receive a pair of stockings free next Saturday night. Ask for a fan and you will learn all about it.

Mr. and Mrs. Dodge are on an auto trip through Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Brown entertained their grandchildren from Milwaukee last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Durr have returned from a vacation trip through southern Illinois to Cairo, where they visited relatives. Harry reports that some of those new subdivisions around Arlington Heights do not know what high water means. He says Arlington Heights may be waiting for a long time for an adequate sewer system, but the town is fortunate in the fact that it is possible to find a sufficient fall to make a sewer possible. It is different in the river bottoms of southern Illinois. Another reason for Harry to be glad that he lives in Illinois.

"Tom Bray and family motored to Wisconsin for the week-end.

Rudie Dieball made a business trip to Oshkosh, Wis., the latter part of the week.

Tom Davis took his wife to a hospital Wednesday.

Wm. Neuman who claims it has been ten years since he has had a vacation, spent the week-end in Michigan, returning Tuesday.

Miss Ann Sadecky is leaving Saturday night on an auto trip to Akron, Cleveland and returning by the way of Michigan.

Little word has been received in Arlington Heights from the party of six local people, who sailed June 18 for Germany. Mr. and Mrs. Louis Miller's destination is the province of Saxony; Mr. and Mrs. Wilke, Berlin; Mr. Greenberg, Mecklenburg and Wm. Engelking, wherever he chances to go.

Arthur McElhose is a bachelor, Mrs. McElhose and the children are visiting near Rhineclander, Wis. Art is just completing service on the Superior court jury.

Why does Uncle Sam think that bankers make good jurors for the Federal Court. Jean Stroker spent the month of June in such service and Henry Hennig is doing the same during July.

The contract for the new elevated steel water tank for the water department at Palatine, was let to the Chicago Bridge & Iron Works of Chicago. The tank purchased will have a capacity of 100,000 gallons of water and will be elevated on a steel tower 67 feet high. The bottom of the tank will be ellipsoidal in shape and will be connected to the main with a large riveted steel pipe. It is known as the Horton ellipsoidal-bottom elevated tank.

Week's Best Story

Do eggs grow on trees in Arlington Heights. A young lad came in to the Herald office the other day and informed the editor that he had been picking eggs. We are never too old to learn, but we are interested in learning whether the eggs were grown on a tree or a bush.

G. W. Zander was so busy Sunday morning playing golf at Rolling Green that he did not recognize Mayor Flentje and C. M. Behrens, who were also on the green. Zander gave as an excuse that he had an "easy mark" professional in tow, but the friends he snubbed have since learned that the easy mark was not the professional. It seems that Zander did not have his customary stroke with him and he had to pay out some good money for leaving the stroke at home.

Speaking of golf, do not be surprised if you see C. M. Behrens wearing his knicker suit around his office. Confidentially C. M. is a little bashful about wearing "kicks" pants down town unless he has a golf bag over his arm, and when last Sunday a stranger came up to his house and asked to be shown a certain farm, C. M. was too good a business man to refuse. The deal was made and commission earned before C. M. realized he was not attired in a man's dress. Now he has become convinced that knickers are a good mascot. Whenever he sees a real live customer come in, he is going to don that golf suit.

We go to press too early to find out exactly what Missouri mud hole stalled George Schenberger.

He is now 24 hours overdue. He left Arlington Heights Friday for Missouri to bring his family back home. His trunk sent by express, arrived on time. If he does not report by Friday, Judge Byrd is going to start an airplane searching party.

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Herman Gaare, who passed away one year ago July 18, 1927.
Gone But Not Forgotten
A precious one from us has gone,
A voice we loved is stilled;
A place is vacant in our home,
Which never can be filled.
God in His wisdom has recalled
The boon His love had given,
And though the body slumbers here,
The soul is safe in Heaven.

ELK GROVE

Mr. Adam Duthorn bought an acre of land at corner of Arlington Heights and Algonquin roads of Wm. F. Behrens for over $5,000, on which he has built a Texas Oil Station, which he operates himself. A lunch room for his daughter, Miss Laura Duthorn, who serves hot or cold drinks, sandwiches, ice cold drinks, candies, ice cream, etc., also a garage where his son works at his trade repairing autos, trucks, etc. This may be the start of a young village at a good location.

Wm. Wiemerslage on Mannheim road has an extra good field of corn. He must have used good seed, planted early and cultivated it properly. Judicious farming like any other business pays fair dividends. We like to give credit where it is due.

Elk Grove and Schaumburg townships have always been famous for fertility and industrious practical farmers who plant and harvest their crops in proper season and are thus prosperous, successful farmers. The senior editor was surprised and pleased to see corn hip high and the big heavy stand of wheat, oats, barley, corn, potatoes, etc., along Rolling road in west part of Elk Grove township. Herman and William Rohlwing, Louis Polman and others in that vicinity have crops of hay, grain, etc., of which they may well feel proud and happy. All they wish for now is seasonable weather for harvesting. Truck gardening also looks promising, some fields had to much rain last week, but light showers would be welcome this week.

PALATINE

The Ladies Aid Society of the M. E. Church will meet with Mrs. Ray Gibbs Wednesday, July 18, at 2:30 p. m.

Palatine sure can be proud of the beautiful rose arches people take pride in making. What is more beautiful than the roses on North Plum Grove avenue at the Charley Zoellick bungalow? It's the most wonderful in all town, its the talk of all that have seen it, and not much trouble in making one. Try it.

The Boy Builders Class of St. Paul's Sunday school enjoyed a picnic at the Whitney Farm at Lake Zurich last Sunday. Swimming and badly burned backs were enjoyed by some. Those attending were Mildred Zoellick, Fairy Belle Bennett, Audrey Mae Bennett, Louise Leding, Theresa Blohm, Helen Miskey, Blanche Stowers, Dalton Kruse, Edward Wagner, Hollis Toynton, Arthur Wildhagen, Elmer Mess, Donald Bodurski, Kenneth Thorpe, Clarence Tarnau, Mrs. Elvira Foster and son, Elris, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Plum Arps, son Lawrence of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Arps and Miss Elvira, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Shenard at Pell Lake, Wis., Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wickersheim, Harry and Anna, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schroeder and family and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bockelman and family attended the surprise birthday party on Edward Wickersheim at Long Grove Sunday.

Mr. A. R. Skibbie entertained his friend, Mr. Cooper of Chicago Monday. Mr. Cooper is the grand son of Rev. Cooper, a former pastor of the Methodist church.

The friends of Al Smith are sorry to hear of his illness. He underwent a slight operation at the Sherman hospital. He has returned home and recovering nicely.

The Rebekah had a fine time at their Chinese laundry and chop suey supper following the meeting last Thursday night. A nice sum was realized for their treasury also.

Mrs. Gus Arps spent Thursday at Crystal Lake, being called there by the death of her sister-in-law's brother, Elmer Magoon.

Joy prevails in many homes today as those held as scarlet fever suspects are released. Each one has assisted by keeping the quarantine.

Band Gives First Popular Concert

The Mount Prospect citizens band put on their first popular concert last Tuesday evening.

It must be said that this concert was a complete success and that the public will turn out in larger numbers as the season goes on. It is with pride that the citizens attend these musical evenings and can tell the world about their band and the wonderful concert they put on for the amusement of the residents of our village.

Credit must be given to the director, Martin Hasz, as well as each member of the band, all take a keen interest in the work and are anxious to please their audiences.

Another thing we must not overlook is the fact that Henry Beigel and his crew of carpenters did a real job in the erection of the stand that the band uses. This was built by you may say, in a few hours and is a credit to the village.

It is the editors' opinion that each and every one that was present at the first concert the band gave this season, is ready to attend every one of the concerts that are to follow, and we also know that Director Hasz and his capable musicians are ready to give the citizens of Mt. Prospect a real treat of music whenever they attend a band concert.

If you enjoy real music and are ready to hear it played by a group of well trained men, then the editor's advice to you is attend the next band concert, which will be given on Tuesday, July 24 at the hour of 8 p. m. and the place is the baseball park, right next to the municipal playground. Be on hand and help the boys along, as the larger the crowd, the better the boys will feel about it.

Canada Thistle Review

Let us for the benefit of all concerned think about the abatement of the Canada Thistle nuisance and we are each and everyone concerned with this problem.

Do you realize it is up to you personally as well as up to the commissioner appointed by the board of auditors of the township to see to it that the law on Canada thistles is obeyed. True it is that the commissioner has power to go into your property and have the thistles cut charging the cost whatever they may be, up to you, in fact he can go into court and secure a judgment against your property to the extent of $100.00.

The Improvement Association at their last meeting appointed a committee to wait upon the board of town auditors and ask for rigid enforcement of the laws regarding Canada thistle, which means that every property owner in the village who has Canada Thistles growing on the property is liable to arrest and faces the possibility of paying a fine, plus the costs of having the thistles cut.

Stop and think this over, then investigate to see if among those that are violators of the law. Should this be the case, get busy and cut the thistles, thereby removing the chances of having a warrant issued for your arrest and the results that follow, be on the safe side and obey the law.

RIVER GROVE VOTES ON NEW BOND ISSUE

We herewith are publishing a letter written by the Village Attorneys to Mr. Otto Koch, president of the Village of River Grove, giving the different reasons for repealing the new ordinance authorizing the issuance of approximately $25,000.00 in bonds, he passed and submitted to the voters for approval.

Mr. Otto J. Koch, President of the Village of River Grove, River Grove, Ill.

Dear Mr. Koch:

In connection with the proposed $40,000.00 River Grove Village Hall Bond Issue, I desire to submit the following statement of facts and recommendations:

In the last session of the legislature, a law was passed increasing the assessed valuation of property from one half of its value to its full value. The taxes were correspondingly reduced fifty per cent, but the bonding power of cities and villages was left at five per cent of the assessed valuation and was thereby doubled. Later a special session of the legislature passed a law reducing the bonding power of all villages, except the City of Chicago, to two and one half percent, but this law does not become effective until July 1, 1928.

Because of this contemplated reduction in bonding power after July 1, many cities and villages throughout the county and state, have bonded their municipalities to the full five per cent limit.

The Village of River Grove was one of the few municipalities which did not attempt to issue bonds to the extent of its bonded limit. The bonding limit of the Village of River Grove at this time is approximately $54,000.00 and the proposed bond issue was for $40,000.00. However, if the Village of River Grove proceeds to sell its $40,000.00 in bonds, under the law as changed, and as it will be after July 1, the bonding power of the village will be exhausted for a number of years to come.

It has come to my attention that because of the fact that many cities and villages have bonded their municipalities up to the full five per cent limit within the last few months, the bond attorneys and others, are anticipating much litigation by large taxpayers, such as railroads, who will attempt to defeat the many issues passed prior to July 1, 1928.

It has also come to my attention that some of the people of River Grove have objected to this bond issue on the ground that the election was hastily called, that they did not receive sufficient notice of the same, and that they did not fully understand the effect of the bond ordinance insofar as their taxes are concerned.

In keeping with your announced policy that the people of River Grove will not have their village taxes increased nor be burdened with additional assessments unless approved by a majority of those effected or voting, and in view of the fact that the village bonding power would be exhausted for at least several years to come, and that some of the people have complained about not being fully advised as to the effect of the election, it is my recommendation that the ordinance calling for the issuance of $40,000.00 in bonds be repealed, and that a new ordinance authorizing the issuance of approximately $25,000.00 in bonds be passed and submitted to the voters for approval; that before the submission of said ordinance, full publicity be given to the ordinance through all of the local papers and by posting notices in public places, so that all of the people of the Village of River Grove voting on said proposition will be fully advised as to the plans of the Trustees and the effect on taxes caused by the adoption of the ordinance.

Very truly yours,
Benson, Fitch & Heinemann

Progress on Two Improvements

Progress can be reported on the new Lutheran school. The three old buildings have been removed and the contractor, J. H. Gors is getting ready to put in the concrete foundation.

Work on the excavation was finished a few days ago, the footing already is in place and the forms have been set so that the concrete walls can be started, which means that they will in all likelihood, start on the brick work the latter part of this week or the first part of next week.

It must be said that speed is being put behind this work and the contractor is doing his utmost to get the building completed as per schedule.

The little folks also come in for a share of the news this week in that the place for the sand house on the playgrounds has already been laid out and the work will be started in the near future. This will give the youngsters a chance to share the play field with their older brothers and sisters and also give the mothers a chance to see how much the children enjoy our municipal playground.

It is true that many villages pay little or no attention to the welfare of the children and the citizens of Mt. Prospect can well be proud of the fact that they have two places they can send their children to play in, and have them use apparatus that is as safe as it is possible for the human brain to devise at the present time.

Let us say another word about the sand house which, as we told you last week, will be built after a model of those in Hamburg, Germany, and our Mayor, William Busse, is discussing the idea to the builders. This will be the first of this type of sand houses being built in this section and is one that provides a resting place for the mothers, as well as the little people, while they enjoy themselves. In other words, it has a twofold purpose and is put to use in both in that it is a shelter for the older folks and a source of pleasure for the little folks.

Mount Prospect A. C. Victorious Over Long Grove

The Galavanting Stubble Jumper's Nine from Long Grove, heralded by their captain "Red" Holste, invaded the local diamond on Sunday. It was an ideal day for a real game, and the fans turned out in a goodly number. "Len" Wuerffel, who did the twirling for the local boys, pitched a good game. When the "dust of battle" had settled, the score read 17-10. However, the game was much better than the score would indicate.

The Long Grove players utilized no less than four pitchers. One sad part of the game was that the local club permitted Long Grove to supply one of the two umpires. This they did in good sportsmanship faith that they would receive a fair deal, but his partial decisions called forth many a booh from the spectators.

The Long Grove team acted like real fellows, but the Mount Prospect Club would greatly appreciate it if they would leave this "umpire" at home the next visit.

FRANKLIN PK. PAVING NOW UNDER WAY

Well folks, at last we are seeing results from our long drawn out paving project. The contractors are now getting in the curbing. Starting on Gustave street, they will continue this work over the entire district to be paved, and follow up with the excavating and then lay the cement.

We are surely joyful to see this work getting under way, there has been much discussion and controversy, some hard feelings and a great amount of blue smoke over this project. Some feel we are paying too much for this work, some again feel we do not need paving on some of the streets and so on and so on. However, the thing is going thru now, and no one will deny that it will be one of the greatest improvements this village has witnessed since its birth.

So the Beacon's word is, for everyone to put their shoulder to the wheel and assist in every way possible to put this over, and get it cleaned out of the way for next year. We do not care to have our streets torn up for two summers or more, and if we all help and give our mutual assistance both to the contractors and also our village servants, this thing should be completed this year. Let's go.

"Well," asked the young man, "what is there about that that you object to?"

"The music, of course."

Two Swedes were walking on a railroad track, when a train came along behind them. One of them was lucky enough to jump off the track in time; the other was not so fortunate. The survivor told about it later:

"After I jump," he said, "I run a little way, and then I go back to see about Ole. Putty soon I come across an arm, on the track, an soon I see one of Ole's legs. Next thing I see Ole's head, then I say, 'My Goodness something must a happened to Ole.'"

Oldest Song

There is some well-grounded belief that the song "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow" is the oldest tune in the world, some investigators of the subject claiming that it was brought back to Europe by the Crusaders when they returned from the East. Some contend that it was sung in Babylon. Some students believe that the oldest tunes in the world are those sung by children at play. Even the most ancient of civilized peoples heard on their streets airs very similar to "London Bridge is Falling Down" and "Here We Go Round the Mulberry Bush."

Daily Vacation Church School Is Fine Success

The Daily Vacation church school was a fine success. At the closing exercises held Friday night about 50 persons witnessed a fitting closing service given by the pupils of the school.

The total registration was 31 pupils. The average attendance was 24 per day. This was high, considering that some children registered late and some began the school and left for vacations before its close.

The entire cost of the school was $47.75, making the average cost per pupil, $1.54.

The staff are to be congratulated for their fine work. Miss Ralph, the superintendent made a fine contribution to the work. Mrs. Stanton, superintendent of the primary department made a good showing. The assistants, Mrs. Rennak, Myrta Gould and Gladys Wallbaum helped very materially toward the final success.

The pastor returned from the Boy Scout camp with the Green local scouts Saturday. He will conduct the service Sunday, July 15.

A THOT OR TWO

Is there a smile in your heart today? A smile in your heart is sure to make a smile on your face.

Folks who are always happy, cheerful and smiling are always folks with a host of friends.

And speaking of friends, are you shooting square with your friends, are you giving them a clean break? Then you are a real friend.

Acquaintanceship is one thing, but that eternal bond of true and trusting friendship cannot be bought, it must be earned by countless good deeds both large and small.

Someone asked us what is the object of this column. It's object is an endeavor to insert a little philosophy of good thots into our paper. We may be wrong sometimes, however, we wish more to be right. Have you a thot? Send it in, we can use it.

We met a real booster the other day, he wore a great big smile, and was just full of the wonderful opportunities in our village. He was boosting everything from our mud-streets to our leading citizen, folks, those are the men who are making our town grow.

Well, we must ring off now, our last cry is join the Booster Bunch. Woody

Improvement Ass'n. Holds Snappy Meet

The Improvement Association held their regular monthly meeting Monday evening and it was a busy one from the reports of the committees. Secretary Haake read the minutes of the previous meeting and they were so approved.

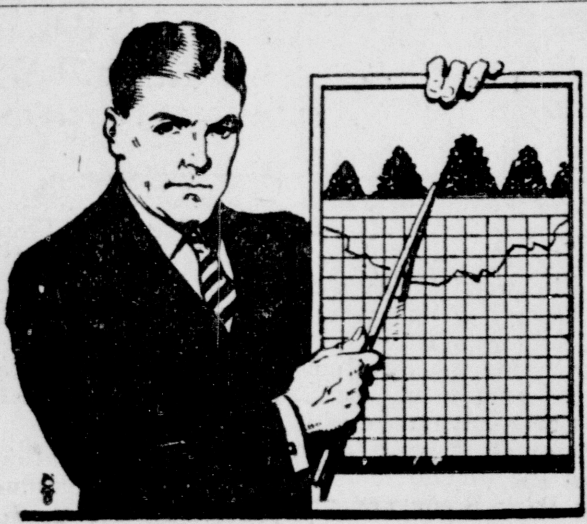

The committee on Canada thistles made their report and several of the members supplemented it with remarks on various violations of the law.

Judge Lueders then outlined the law on thistles and the powers of the commissioner, asking the co-operation of the entire association with the town board to help destroy this nuisance.

Next came the report on the street lights, which committee reported they waited on the village board and were informed that the engineers were busy designing a system of ornamental posts for the troubled district. It is hoped that the engineer would be ready to report at the next village board meeting.

In both instances the committees were authorized to continue their work and do what they can to assist in bringing about results by co-operation with the proper authorities.

Mr. H. Weiss of South Main street was admitted to membership. He was welcomed by all present and was rather pleased to become a member of so active an association.

American Legion Notes

July Fourth the American Legion officially opened the day in Glenview with a parade and services featuring our new drum and bugle corps.

The parade gathered at the school at 10 o'clock and marched through the business district to the park, where they went to entertain the Legionnaire, Ben McQueen, but on their arrival, found the whole park out to meet them. The park people outdid the welcome of the village residents, most of whom failed to do more than gaze out of the window on the procession.

This appearance, which is the Bugle Corp's second, shows a marked improvement over the first which occurred Memorial day. There are two new members enrolled in the corps.

Palatine Wildcats Trim Northbrook 8-4

Last Sunday Northbrook motored to Palatine with the expectation of winning the ball game, but evidently after the first few innings, their pep was gone, or the Wildcats were so strong for them, so the Wildcats were up in front again, winning 8 out of 10 games, thus far.

The game was a hard one from start to finish. These boys beat the Cats 2-1 two weeks ago. As the cats won last Sunday, the rubber will be played off in three or four weeks on the latter's diamond.

The cats have games scheduled for every Sunday, until snow flies, and Jim expects to pitch every one this season. He already has pitched the ten games which were played so far.

Sunday, July 15, 1928, at Nason's field, at 2:30 v. m. sharp, the Wildcats are playing the Elgin aces, who are a snappy colored nine. There is no doubt, but what this will be a tough battle. The following Sunday the Wildcats will play at Morton Grove, giving them their last game. July 29, they will play Niles Center at Nason's field. Everybody ought to be out Sunday, if weather permits, and watch the Cats tune up the colored Elgin aces.

Do Not Try To Kid Thistle Commissioner

Mr. J. C. Hahnfeld, thistle commissioner of Palatine, asks this paper to give a gentle hint to Palatine land owners and tenants that they should not try to kid the commissioner by cutting off the thistles that grow on their lands near the highways. The commissioner is well aware of the other thistles he would be failing in his duty if he did not insist that all of them be cut.

The editor presumes that the same condition exists in other townships.

BENSENVILLE

Herman Eckler had the misfortune to drop a heavy pump on his foot one day last week, badly injuring the toes of that foot. He is hobbling around with the aid of a cane this week.

The little daughter of our druggist, Mr. Sayles, and wife has been quite ill at their home of Center street.

The Albert Tompkins family entertained Mr. Tompkins' father, mother, sister and two young lady friends from Oak Park Sunday afternoon.

The first Evangelical Sunday school held their annual picnic at the Stueve farm Saturday. The boys were to play another ball game with the Itasca Sunday school team that day, but as only four members of the Itasca team arrived on the scene, 5 men members of the Baracca class helped the four Itasca boys defeat our Sunday school team in an exhibition game. However, the game did not count in the series being played by the different Sunday school teams. All enjoyed the day greatly.

Next Sunday is Cy Boothy day at the Bensenville baseball park and a good attendance is expected if the weather man is on the square and gives us a day like last Sunday. Cy is manager of our baseball team and is sure showing the world what can be done with a bunch of fellows that are willing to follow their leader. If you fail to attend, you will miss a good time and more so, because of the double header that starts at promptly 12:30 p. m.

Harold Franzen and George Rayne were absent from the game last Sunday as they were enjoying a few days in George's old home town in Wisconsin catching fish. Senne also absent as he, Gerald Capoot, John Schmidt, Arnold Kirchoff and another young man from the city recently purchased a second hand auto and started on a few week's tour into Canada and a few other oases in the great desert of North America. And they report having the time of their lives on the trip. Five jolly fellows, a touring car and no place in particular to go only home when the vacation ends.

Ferd. Marquett, accompanied by Mrs. Wm. Koehlbman, Ruth and Ralph Koehlbman, went to Waukegan last week and will visit at Ferd's parent's home in that city. Mr. Marquett has boarded at the Koehlbman residence several years and always wanted the family to visit his Wisconsin home. The rest was very much needed by Mrs. Koehlbman and the children surely will enjoy the visit to the northern woods.

Mrs. Capoot joined her husband at Excelsior Springs, where she spent the Fourth. Mr. Capoot was taking a week's rest at that famous rest resort.

La Vern Smethurst started his annual vacation Monday. Himself and family went to Boscobal and Waukegan, Wis., to spend the time. Vern will return Sunday morning to play ball with the team and return to Wisconsin on an evening train. That reminds us of something several fans have spoken of. That is the lack of interest shown in the kind of baseball our boys are playing. Here one of the players who is spending his vacation along the cool fishing streams of Wisconsin travels 500 miles to help his team win a ball game that the majority of our citizens don't take interest enough in to even attend. Our boys have been winning games from some of the best teams in the mid west league, but if the attendance continues to drop off these teams will not come to Bensenville to play for the pleasure of the guests. Fortune telling booths, trapeze artists, gaily arrayed in pretty, bouffant costumes, well trained dogs and horses, who could do practical everything but speak the human language, there were several old time clowns, who told jokes and did funny tricks and an honest-to-goodness band who knew how to play almost any kind of music, all from "Asleep in the Deep" to "Had a Little Drink." There were myriads of different methods of providing joy for the patrons. Adams Brothers made their debut right here in our home town; it is their first performance for the public and it certainly proved a great success. They do not worry now about their reception in other towns as they made such a big hit here, that people are still talking about it.

Miss Planert, teacher of English at the high school, decided to stage a little swimming spree one day last week so Miss Edna Capoot, Josephine Morse, and Florence Greenwald, of Itasca, accompanied her and all went to some quiet lake and enjoyed a perfect day of water sport, which means that all of our young people are so fond of swimming, and it was thought ought to have a lake in Bensenville.

Mr. and Mrs. Wheat entertained company three or four days last week. They like the country, especially during the summer time, very much more than in the city.

Mrs. Fischer and daughter, Selma, and Mrs. Marshall, went to Chicago Monday and viewed the initial opening of McKickers Theatre since its recent reconstruction. They heard a fine vitaphone and movie performance and "The Street Angel," starring James Gagner and Charles Farrell. Anyone wishing to see a good film, should not miss "The Street Angel," which deals with Italian life under the big top.

The Render family have returned from their brief visit to Wisconsin, and report they had a great time.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Heim, and a party of friends from Norwood Park, spent July 4 and 5 at Long Lake. They enjoyed themselves very nicely.

The Wilson and Thomas families had guests from the city Sunday. The Bahr family also entertained visitors from out of town. Merwits played host to relatives and friends, the Gutricks had their share of the receiving line. Orchard avenue was a busy thoroughfare. Traffic, traffic, everywhere. Don't forget about the business mens arrival to be held the first eight days in September. May-fish they could eat during their stay. From their report of the outing, we are inclined to believe that more of our citizens will meander towards Lake Winnebago for their outings.

Born Sunday, July 8, to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Atchison an 11½ pound son. Earl says they now have a pair of kings and a pair of queens and when either the mother or he joins the children that's a full hand and when the parents and the children are all together it's a full house. Mother and son doing nicely. We all enjoyed those cigars for which all congratulatory happy parents and the new born son.

Again Father Flannagan's Boys Home band is coming to Bensenville Thursday evening July 19 at Social hall. It is a wonderful organization and all who enjoy hearing the boys' band should avail themselves of this opportunity. The admission, Free.

Not a single citizen should lose sight of, nor interest in the Big Carnival the business men are to put on the first week in September. If father, mother, sisters, brothers or friends are contemplating a visit to the "Old Home Town" this year, you should influence them to come that week as it will be the time to meet almost everybody who lives, or has ever lived in this community. It is to be a real home coming, harvest festival, celebration and general get-together for everybody interested in Bensenville and the wonderful progress it has made the last few years. Advertising will soon be seen scattered from every automobile and even from airplanes showing how it is to be expected at the big show. It will be a celebration for everybody and will be sponsored by the wide awake business men of Bensenville who today have an organization it is a credit to belong to.

Vernon Stellman, the Athletics short stop, took in the game between the Cubs and Boston Tuesday. Being a real ball player himself he enjoys seeing how the big Chicago cubs take a game like they did that day.

The Robert Pilgram family enjoyed an auto trip last week driving to Stratford, Wis., and back a total of 714 miles. On their return trip they spent Sunday at the Dells of the Wisconsin river at Kilbourn City. They were all greatly enthused over the beauty of that wonderful summer resort and enjoyed the day immensely.

Mr. La Salle, a resident of Spokane, Washington, who has been staying with Mr. and Mrs. B. I. La Salle, will leave for his home Friday morning, after a delightful visit in Bensenville. Mr. La Salle enjoyed his four weeks with us, and is loath to leave. Mr. and Mrs. La Salle will also leave Friday for a two weeks' vacation. They will tour around Iowa and visit their friends in Des Moines. They were formerly inhabitants of Des Moines, and will be glad to renew old scenes and friendships after five years' absence.

Miss Frieda Palla, her brother, Rudolph, Miss Irene Hess, and Miss Noller, engaged in a delightful swimming party Friday evening. The heat was so intense that they found this way of cooling off very ideal and recommend swimming to those who suffer from the hot weather.

Miss May King, Irving Park boulevard, went to Chicago Friday to visit her father and mother over the week-end. She had a very nice time, but the heat in the city was more intense than in Bensenville.

Did any of you folks miss the big circus that was held Saturday night at the Bensenville high school grounds? If you did, you certainly left out something worth while. All kinds of entertainment was provided for the pleasure of the guests. Fortune telling booths, trapeze artists, gaily arrayed in pretty, bouffant costumes, well trained dogs and horses, who could do practical everything but speak the human language, there were several old time clowns, who told jokes and did funny tricks and an honest-to-goodness band who knew how to play almost any kind of music, all from "Asleep in the Deep" to "Had a Little Drink." Don't forget about the business mens arrival to be held the first eight days in September. Maybe this event will even outdo the Adams Brothers entertainment, so you'd better be present to help make it one grand success.

How many of you attended the Fourth of July dance at the Koehlbman's pavilion Wednesday? Wasn't it great? People around town, in town, and way, way beyond town, were present to help celebrate.

When school reopens September 7, Miss Hilda Landmeier, who graduated from high school two years ago, will be the secretary. We wish her a world of success.

Some of our school children stay with her for a short summer vacation.

People are now occupying the house formerly inhabited by the Kase family who moved to Michigan.

The baseball game played July 4 with Bensenville and the Chicago Monarchs, a colored team, was interesting, the laurels were won by Bensenville. The Athletics played the Chicago Monarchs once before and scored a victory then. They are getting along fine and have won several contests recently. They won the game played with the North Center Team, who are also a strong team.

Mr. Romme and his mother-in-law have arrived from Chicago to take over the store business during the absence of the Dahl family. Mr. Romme has already gotten into the swing of the business and is a very capable store clerk.

Miss Fay Peterson, who has been on a vacation, returned to her work recently. Fay found it necessary to go back to the hot weather set, and it was with profound regret that she took up her duties just now.

TIEDEMAN LANDMARK COMES DOWN

Since Mr. Tiederman has decided to vacate the old frame building has served as store building, lodge hall and living rooms many years, it is reported that the building has been sold to George Franzen who will have it torn down as soon as vacated. The building has far outlived its usefulness and is fast becoming dilapidated causing it to be an eyesore when so many beautiful up-to-date places are being built up around it. With the passing out of this building the old sheds and out buildings that have long been condemned as obnoxious will pass out of existence also. It begins to look as though Addison street or that part of it at least is destined to become a business block of great beauty and magnitude and when that comes we are of the opinion that a beautiful new passenger station will be built that will compare favorably with the rest of the buildings on the street. Bensenville is bound to boom and as it does the modern business places will take the places of the old time buildings and now just watch us grow as the beautiful city we have talked so much about the last few years.

The Lattie Inn on Mannheim road two blocks south of Irving Park Boulevard is doing a large business and no wonder when you look into those clean kept dining halls how can you resist stopping and dining?

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Wasson and little son, Kenneth, of Albuquerque, New Mexico, who are visiting relatives here, are spending the week-end with relatives and friends in Elgin.

Next Sunday's program at the M. E. church will be the same as last Sunday school at 10 a. m. and the evening service at 8 p. m. All members of the congregation are urged to attend the camp meeting at DesPlaines.

Wary Ladies

When a girl doesn't marry until she's thirty these days she's hard to catch. Star finds out how well she can get along without marriage and becomes very choosy. —Archibald Globe.

Substitute Spelling

A second-grade teacher was inspecting letter-card sentences made by her pupils. On one boy's desk she read this sentence: "He took his hat off." Very much surprised at the novel spelling, she inquired of the boy how he happened to spell "off" in this way. "Well," was the reply, "I ran out of fs."

Some Dislikes

As a rule, I never like the man who refers to Sunday as the Sabbath. Also, I object to the man who says it isn't money that counts, but character, brains, nobility, etc. —E. W. Howe's Monthly.

Fallacy Exploded

No one is chronically "poisoned" by certain kinds of foods and no one is a digestive ruined simply by eating certain kinds of food. —Dr. Logan Clendening in "The Human Body."

AMONG THE THEATRES

"The Whip" Comes
To Chicago Theatre

Englishwoman though she is, and athletically inclined in other lines of sport, Dorothy Mackail never rode to hounds in her life before until she was cast in "The Whip," the First National Picture coming to the Chicago theatre Monday, July 16.

But her role in "The Whip" is that of a daughter of a wealthy English sportsman, English sportsmen and their families always ride, as though they were born in the saddle.

Consequently, Miss Mackail set out, somewhat grimly, to join the hunt for the picture, and she swims, plays tennis and golf—but she had never developed any particular fondness for riding to hounds.

A day's practice, however, not only taught her that horses would clear the barriers and fences, but developed a keen interest in the sport.

"Swanee Moon," Frank Cambrin's latest Public offering, will be the stage show during this week. This latest colorful production will be a combination of beautiful settings, southern melodies with the jazzy northern twang of banjos, and prancing feet.

Ramon Novarro,
Renee Adoree
At The Oriental

Vivid visions of glamorous moonlight falling upon the rippling surface of Venetian canals, with their smoothly gliding gondolas and the banjo twanging gondoliers—neath a perfect heaven of twinkling stars—all tempered with the hilarious gaiety of the foreign holiday spirit, and with the sweet, intriguing laughter of dark skinned maidens whose eyes are lit with a liquid fire.

Al Kvale, the Maestro of Jazz, has had this vision. His realistic dreams of this enchanting country, during the Mardi Gras fiestas, have resulted in his latest production, coming to the Oriental theatre on Sunday, July 15, entitled "Carnival Nights."

Al and the merry-mad gang will take their fans on a trip, the like of which they have never before experienced—down ribbon-like strips of water in a smoothly rocking gondola, propelled by the happy-go-lucky gondolier who sings with heart-felt spirit. On each side one will see languorous maidens serenaded by Latin youths, fired with the unquenchable passion of their caste; wild-eyed girls will execute the serpentine dances in their own fiery manner before their admiring lovers.

"Carnival Nights," according to Al, will be a show of beauty, a show of wonder and of talent. Glittering with a brilliant array of unusual stars, the Oriental stage will set forth to its admirers as one of the most unusual places for entertainment in Chicago.

"Street Angel" Draws
Crowds at McVickers

The Neopolitan settings and atmosphere for "Street Angel," the Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell co-starring vehicle, which goes thundering along at McVickers theatre in its second record week, were found in Mark Twain.

It was the inspiration derived from a chapter in the famous American humorist's travel book, "Innocents Abroad," which convinced Frank Borzage, the director, that he would do well to lay the scene of the picture in the picturesque city of Naples.

Upon his return, Borzage built the scenes and street settings. These he peopled with Neapolitans dancing, singing, strolling and love-making, such scenes as might have been described by Twain, and which in fact were described by him, and written almost sixty years ago.

This is conspicuously the case in one scene where Farrell goes wandering through the streets seeking his lost sweetheart, Miss Gaynor. Here he brushes against multitudes of busy natives. A comparison with Twain's passage yields the graphic result:

"The streets are generally about wide enough for one wagon, and how they do swarm with people. There are seldom any sidewalks so everyone walks in the street and where the street is wide enough, carriages are forever dashing along."

Haines in Thriller
At Uptown Theatre

After making four highly successful sport pictures, which required him to keep himself in the pink of condition at all times, the star was at last enabled to relax during the making of his new starring production, "Telling the World," which comes Monday, July 16, to the Uptown theatre.

Athletics and Haines have been boon companions ever since he played football in "Brown of Harvard." He followed that by a portrayal of a baseball player in "Slide, Kelly, Slide." In "Spring Fever" he became a champion golfer and returned to football for "West Point." He made his debut as a champion polo player in his last production, "The Smart Set," and spent weeks learning the fine points of the game.

In "Telling the World" Haines plays the part of a newspaper reporter, who becomes the representative of one of the big press associations, and is sent to the interior of China.

Anita Page has the leading feminine role in the production while the cast of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture includes Bert Roach, Eileen Percy, Polly Moran and others.

Bennie Krueger and his orchestra will be hosts to the peppy, Paix production, "Knick-Knacks," which is the latest presentation to be brought to Uptown theater patrons.

A host of dazzling stage stars, and dancers, will furnish highly amusing entertainment, while the orchestra will add to the merriment with the latest hits of the day.

Frankie Masters As Norsshore Producer

Imbued with the higher thoughts and ambitions of the much-talked-of glorification of the American girl, Frankie Masters has decided to become a dancing master, maestro, and musician all in one, for his next show, starting Sunday, July 15. It will be entitled "Frankie's Follies."

Frankie has his own recipe for the glorification of modern womanhood. Surrounded by an Urbansesque splendor and dazzling color schemes, he will cause the girls to appear Venus-like in their perfect forms, and their tersichorean efforts will obtain a "hand" such as Ziegfeld himself might well be proud.

The "Follies" revue will be a peppy production, with a constant stream of stage beauties and celebrities. The jazz collegians, knowing of Frankie's enthusiasm in his new line, are backing him to the limit.

Syncope and harmony will be chocked into the program with the zest of a chef preparing a royal meal, and it will be served in the Collegians' inimitable style. The entire presentation, regal in its colorful effects, will be tempered through by Frankie's clear-ringing tenor voice. It will indeed be a master-piece production, with Frankie's quick wit, already the talk of Chicago, treating his fans to one of the most delightful stage entertainments they have ever witnessed.

George Bancroft will be seen in his latest Paramount film "The Drag Net."

Paul Whiteman
With Huge Escort

Paul Whiteman and his orchestra, fresh from a triumphant engagement of six months in New York City, and a record week at the Chicago theatre, will appear at the Uptown theatre, starting Monday, July 9. The celebrated Jazz King will be accompanied by his musical court consisting of thirty odd musicians, singers, dancers, comedians and other performers which, to borrow a circus phrase, makes it "The Greatest Show on Earth." A program of the latest dance melodies, ballads and modern jazz compositions will be augmented.

Whiteman's local engagement will be something a great deal more than a concert, however intriguing a Whiteman concert may be. Paul and his orchestra will appear in a great stage production of colorful settings, called "Rio Romances," filled with singers, ballets, comedians and novelties. Joe Penner, famous comedian from the Greenwich Village Follies, will head Paul's supporting cast.

"Half a Bride," Esther Ralston's latest starring vehicle, will be seen on the screen, with Gary Cooper playing opposite Miss Ralston.

It is a modern drama, with an unusual plot treated in an extraordinary manner, the result being perfect entertainment.

"Sunrise," Feature
Is Emotional Epic

"Sunrise" with Janet Gaynor and George O'Brien playing the leading roles, continues to be the attraction at the Roosevelt theatre. F. W. Murnau, famous German director, who made "The Last Laugh," and "Faust," was given free reign in "Sunrise."

One of the features of "Sunrise" is what Murnau has termed "scenic moods." It is a new idea in pictures and reveals not only the physical action of the players, but creates their mental action as well. "Sunrise" is based on an original theme by Herman Sudermann. It tells of a tragic emotional revolt of a man an elevated structure that runs against his wife—a revolt born of the wiles of a temptress and shows how his own soul redeems him, his love for his wife endures in the end.

The heart of a great city, was built by Murnau in the Fox Hollywood studios. This city not only boasts skyscrapers, rows of apartment houses and street car lines, but through the town as well.

The cast in addition to George O'Brien and Janet Gaynor, consists of Margaret Livingston, Ralph Slippy, J. Farrell McDonald, Jane Minton, Bodil Rosing, Arthur Housman and Eddie Boland.

Human Engine Needs Sugar

Sugar is the quickest, cheapest, purest and most generally efficient fuel for the human body. It begins to burn within about five minutes after it has been consumed. This is why it is so valuable in the diet of the who do heavy physical work. James A. Tobey explains in Hygienic Magazine.

Tobacco as School Prize

If a schoolboy makes a perfect recitation in school, or a perfect record in sports, the teacher gives him a cigar, and it is the pupil's privilege to smoke it then and there. Sometimes if the whole class conducts itself in an admirable manner the teacher will then distribute cigarettes. The teacher lights up, and the school grinds goes on amid fragrant clouds of smoke.

Wall Paper in America

Wall paper was imported by the early settlers of the Colonies. The first factory making wall paper was established in this country in 1790 by John B. Howell at Albany, N. Y., but the second one did not appear until 1810. During this period the wealthy people were in the habit of importing their wall paper from England and France.

He Was Interested in Millicent

By AD SCHUSTER

DAN CARNEY, eating his ham and eggs in a Ninth avenue restaurant, decided he was in love. The experience was not unusual and yet he told himself, as he always did, this was a serious, absorbing passion.

Millicent, drawing coffee from a polished urn, went about her task gracefully and without knowledge of the emotions in the heart of her ruddy-haired customer.

"She acts," thought Dan, "like a fine lady serving tea in the drawing room, or wherever it is they serve it."

It was Millicent's superior air that attracted him. She was as busy and as efficient as the rest, but while they hurried about, working for the sake of getting the noon-hour rush over, Millicent was hostess. They grinned and laughed; Millicent smiled and went her way. Because Millicent would not join in a counter conversation, Dan was left with his imagination and was romantic enough to prefer it that way.

"Most like," he said to himself, "there has been hard luck in her family and she is helping by doing this work. Her hands seem so white and her ways so gentle that she cannot have worked long. May she is a college girl writing a thesis and getting experience, a social worker, or something. Anyhow," he sighed with content, "she is a mystery to me, and that is enough."

To Millicent, Dan was the red-headed man who left generous tips and acted as if he wanted to get acquainted. To Dan, the waitress took on qualities of every woman, one day as he was passing the place in the middle of the forenoon he saw a limousine stop a few doors away and out of it step Millicent, the waitress. She looked up and down the street, walked quickly to the restaurant and went inside. Dan knew that he had made a discovery.

"We'll check off that theory about a poor girl helping with the family work," he reflected, "and stick by the one of the college girl seeking information as to how the waiting half lives. When I find out enough about Miss Millicent I'll spring it and make her tell. Gee, I wish I was a college man and could talk her language."

To make sure that this was no accident or unusual occurrence for the girl, Dan lingered near the place next day and again the limousine stopped just far enough from the restaurant that the other girls might not see, again a nervous Millicent slipped out and made her way into the place of dishes and stew.

"She won't stand it long," Dan reflected. "Guess I'll have to find out about this pretty soon." To the police station he took the number of the limousine and, with the aid of a friendly sergeant, looked up the owner. Dan gasped when he heard the name of one of the city's notably rich men on the Drive.

"This is a big story!" He knew he could sell it to one of the papers. The daughter of old Philip F. Gaylord himself, waiting on table! He could see it all in his mind. But how would Millicent like it? There came a struggle between hope and a newspaper sense that had often stood him in stead. Well, anyhow, he could talk to Millicent just once.

"You know," he said as politely as he could, "you aren't fooling me at all. I have seen you arrive in a big car."

"Don't tell," she said. "Please don't."

"Not me. I won't say a word. I understand just how it is. Knew it from the first."

That evening when Peter Lumton, chauffeur for Philip F. Gaylord, called on Millicent, the girl told him that after this he would have to drop her off at least a block from the restaurant.

India's Plague of Beggars

It has recently been stated that at the latest twelfth-year fair at Madras, the road from the city to the bathing place—a distance of two and a half miles—was lined with religious beggars, sitting shoulder to shoulder. Each had an attendant sitting in front soliciting alms for his master.

Satin an Important Fabric
for Daytime and Evening Wear

By JULIA BOTTOMLEY

SATIN will radiate its lovely sheen throughout the winter mode. In fact, the fashionist is growing more and more enthusiastic in regard to satin. Paris acclaims it not only for daytime dress, but most ardently for evening wear, especially the white satin frock of classic drape. A gown of white satin recently worn by a Parisienne of high degree, carried a cluster of snowy gardenias at shoulder and hipline as its only adornment.

This being very much of a black and a white season in Paris, it follows that black satin styled with utmost simplicity has become the idol of the fashionables for daytime wear. The model in the picture is a representative type of all that is best among high-class costumes. Notice that the skirt is tiered and then draped at one side, which is a very popular styling this season.

The other charming gown is beige and it accents the effectiveness of crepe satin used in reverse. This girlish model is two-piece and its satin (shiny side out) skirt has just enough of the flare to be stylish. The blouse cleverly alternates the luster and the dull side of the satin, the little bows supplying the little beehiving touch.

A color that is selling beyond all precedent in satin, is brown, especially chestnut brown and cinnamon shades. As said before, trimming is conspicuous by its absence on these frocks of satin. However, any lack of embellishment is made up by the intriguing manipulation of the fabric itself. Jabot drapes, uneven hemlines, clever necklines and many soft bows tied of the material contribute their charm.

A fascinating feminine aspect is given to these winsome satins, with the use of exquisite lace at wrists or at neck or in a side cascade. One is impressed with the choice-ness of the laces employed for this purpose.

Worship, 10:30.
Daily Vacation Bible school is being held during July in the Community House. Every child is welcome.

The orchestra rehearses on Monday evening and Friday evening. The mixed choir meets every Friday evening.

On July the 22nd we shall observe our Mission Day. It will be a day on which the missionary character of Christians will be emphasized. Missionary Armin Meyer, who has just returned from India will speak in the morning and afternoon services.

Preparations are being made for a great home coming celebration to be held all day August the 19th. "For everyone that asketh, receive; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened."

St. Peter Ev. church orchestra will give a concert on the evening of July the 25th in the Community house. Aside from the musical numbers by the entire orchestra there will be solos by Eugene Koenig. The program will be augmented by a radio comedy entitled "Hot Air" with a cast of ten. Humorous monologues will add enjoyment. The concert is given for the benefit of the orchestra which is still in its teens. The concert will start promptly at 8:15.

An illustrated lecture on India will be given by Armin Meyer at the Ev. Community House on the evening of July the 23rd. Aside from the slides Mr. Meyer will also show many other articles of interest which he brought with him from India. It is always interesting to study the habits, thoughts and ways of living of other people.

Mr. Meyer is in the Mission work of the Evangelical Synod over there and has just returned from there for a furlough in America. Everyone is welcome to attend this lecture which will begin at 8 o'clock.

State Starts Health Library Service

Springfield, July 10—As a guide to steer the man in the street around medical quackery on the one hand and over zealous commercialism on the other, the state department of public health has established a selected library and bibliography on health subjects, according to an announcement made here today by Dr. Isaac D. Rawlings, state health director. Books suitable for texts in public schools and for general information on hygiene, sanitation, diet and habit are included in the collection.

"With the air, the press and the platform flooded with propaganda emanating from radically different sources," said Dr. Rawlings, "the man in the street is at his wits end to know who or what to believe regarding health matters. One group declares for vaccination and another against it, each playing upon the fear of the public for a hearing. One group extolls bran as the universal remedy and another yeast. Some say eat and others advise fasting for what have you.

To provide a reliable source of information in the health field for those who are willing to accept the judgment of public health officials who have devoted their lives to the study of health problems, a library has been established by the state department of public health. In it are books on every phase of public health ranging from hygiene and sanitation to diet and habit. The books have been selected so as to include volumes suitable for texts in public schools as well as for general reading.

"The primary object of the library is to give superintendents of schools, teachers, librarians and school board members a dependable source from which to choose books for texts in health education courses and for teacher training. The library books will be exhibited at the several state teachers' colleges and at a number of teachers' institutes prior to the opening of schools next autumn."

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH
If you would be comfortable this summer, observe the following hot weather rules, advises Health Commissioner Arnold H. Kegel. He recommends that adults:
Eat lightly; mainly fruits, vegetables and milk.

Exercise and work moderately.
Keep cool mentally — control tempers.
Dress sanely; clothing should be loose, light in weight and color.
Drink water and fruit juices freely.
Stay out of crowds as much as possible.
Take frequent baths; when swimming, don't stay in too long.
Get as much rest as possible.
Maintain regular health habits.
Rules for the baby are as follows:
Find the coolest place in the house and keep him there, but don't turn an electric fan on him.
Reduce clothing — diaper and sleeveless shirt or nothing at all on the hottest days.
Give him extra water — all he will take; the tap temperature is about right — never give ice water; boil it for children under two years; give two or more baths a day.
Take him out in morning and evening, not in mid-day.
Guard him from flies, mosquitoes and other insects.
Continue breast feeding if possible; consult your physician before discontinuing.
Reduce all food one-third on extremely hot days.
Insure quiet — freedom from excitement.
Prohibit fondling by adults.
Call your physician at the first hint of bowel or stomach disturbance.

EAST MAINE

Miss Elva Toepel who has been ill with diphtheria is reported convalescing. We all hope she will be out soon.

The meeting of St. Matthews Ladies' Aid to have been held on July 12 was postponed until later in the month, the exact date to be announced later.

A safe, sane and very quiet 4th was spent in this vicinity this year. Of course weather conditions had something to do with it and too because the diphtheria quarantine in our midst the church board considered it best to postpone the church picnic to have been held that day. However, a gala celebration occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cahagan where more than seventy-five guests were entertained in honor of the 6th birthday anniversary of their daughter, Phyllis. A large display of fireworks were shot off that night for the enjoyment of the party and served as an appropriate close to the eventful day.

Misses Clara Geweke and Mabel Steil returned July 8th from their tour of the East and never tire of telling of the wonderful sights and beauties they enjoyed throughout the trip. A detailed account of the tour will be found elsewhere in this issue.

Somebody, evidently some rowdies intent upon obtaining a large supply of fireworks for their 4th of July celebration, broke into the roadside stand operated by Jacks Brothers on Milwaukee avenue about 6 o'clock the morning before the 4th and made off with $15.00 worth of fireworks. Candies and other goods in the stand had been tampered with but it is supposed that the barking of the dogs frightened the intruders away before they had finished their pillaging. No trace of them has been found.
